About Me

I'm a passionate Software Developer and Software Engineer based in Lagos, Nigeria. I build user-friendly interfaces and reliable backends using modern web technologies. I enjoy learning new tools and collaborating with teams to ship value.

My ambition is to use software and AI to create positive impact and practical solutions — building products that help people and businesses achieve more with less friction.

Experience

- WhiteChop — Web Developer / Developed responsive and scalable website
- Husband & Wife Restaurant — Role / brief note
- Self-employed — Personal projects, freelance work
- MalcNexus — Backend Engineer

Projects

- Personal Blog / Portfolio — Responsive static site built with HTML/CSS and deployed on GitHub Pages. View Live
- E-commerce Mobile Application — Enables businesses upload products, customers view and interact via app.
